

Hey, everyone! We're here at the youth preparedness summit council here in Washington, DC. I want to announce that we're going to be having a Periscope and Facebook live event going on at 11:45 eastern. And we're gonna have our youth preparedness council members here, and they're going to be answering your questions live. That's right, they're gonna be completely live answering any questions that you have. So I'm looking forward to seeing you at 11:45—don't miss out.
